FRIENDS OF THE GUILD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1.0 Introduction

The Guild is an organisation whose aim is to:-

- To raise awareness in the wider community of accredited practitioners in their area within Mid-Wales.
- To support practitioners in the field of holistic healing methods, alternative health practices, natural or energetic therapists who work in the Mid-Wales area.
- To promote the well being of the community of Mid-Wales through holistic healing methods, alternative health practices, natural or energetic therapies and education on health and well-being.
- To provide support, education and training to practitioners, other individuals, and organisations in the subject of holistic health education, seminars, workshops and events in Mid-Wales and the wider community.

The Guild defines holistic medicine as a form of healing that considers the whole person, body, mind, spirit, and emotions; in the quest for optimal health and wellness. The members of the Guild are practitioners of a recognised healthcare or bodywork qualification who demonstrate or provide a holistic healing method, alternative health service, natural or energetic therapy.

The criteria for acceptable therapies should be at least one of the following principles of treatment, or healing modality:

- 1) relaxation or stress relief
- 2) relieving pain or emotional trauma
- 3) helping people heal faster

Since this is a Guild for holistic practitioners solely in the field of healthcare we are sorry but we are unable to admit as members beauty therapists, hairdressers, manicurists, tattooists, body piercing etc.

The Guild welcomes:-

- MEMBERS IN PRACTICE - who are qualified practitioners who meet the criteria and are eligible for membership of the Guild. Members in Practice have the right to attend the annual general meeting (and any extraordinary general meetings) and have important powers under the constitution; in particular, the Members elect people to serve as Committee Officers, and take decisions in relation to changes to the constitution. They are eligible to attend social and educational events run by the Guild.
- FRIENDS OF THE GUILD – are people who wish to support the aims and objectives of The Guild but are not eligible for Member in Practice status, for example they are students or retired practitioners. They do not have voting rights, or any other rights in relation to the governing of the Guild though they can attend AGMs, and are eligible to attend social and educational events. Friends of the Guild are covered by separate terms and conditions. Please enquire if you require further information.

2.0 Qualifications for membership

To apply as a Friend of the Guild you must:

- Complete an application form and sign the membership agreement;
- Sign an agreement that you understand and shall comply with the objectives and aims of the Guild and the Terms and Conditions of membership;
- Live in Mid-Wales;

On receipt of your first application, and provided you meet the criteria for admission, the Committee will then consider your application for membership at the first committee meeting which is held after receipt of the application and will notify you of our decision, in a reasonable time after the meeting.

The Committee may, at our discretion, refuse to admit any person to membership.

3.0 Friend of The Guild Membership Guidelines

The membership year runs from 1st April to 31st March the following year.

The cost of membership is £10 per annum and is payable on or before the 1st May in each year. Failure to pay by the due date may result in an additional administration fee of £20 being levied.

You will not be considered a fully paid up Friend of the Guild until your annual subscription has been paid in full, and you have submitted all your documentation.

If your membership subscription remains outstanding beyond the 1st June the committee may, expel you from membership, omit or remove you from any Guild documentation. You may not be notified.

If you wish to withdraw from membership please notify the Guild by letter or email and on receipt of the notice by the Guild, you shall cease to be a member. If you cease to be a member for whatever reason, you shall not be entitled to any refund of the membership subscription.

Your membership is not transferable to any other person.

4.0 Register of Friends of the Guild

The Guild Secretary maintains a list of its Members in Practice and Friends of the Guild, and this includes your personal contact details. The register is only used by the Guild and remains separate from the Directory of Practitioners which is made public. The information provided on the register will be used to contact you about any meetings or upcoming events.

Please notify us promptly of any changes to your personal or professional details. We aim to use electronic means wherever possible so please notify us if you need to be contacted by letter.

5.0 Directory of Practitioners

The Guild maintains a Directory of Practitioners which is used for the promotion of the Guild and its Members in Practice as part of the Guild's objectives. Inclusion is only available to Members in Practice.

6.0 The Guild Website

The Guild has a website and will publish details of the Members in Practice as per the directory.

We would be happy to include your name in our list of patrons of the Guild. This is optional so please let us know if you would prefer not to be included.

As a Friend of the Guild you are welcome to link in to the Guild website but you may not

- Imply in any way that you are a Member in Practice of the Guild.
- That the Guild confers on you any right to practice a therapy even if you hold qualifications in that therapy.
- You must not make claims of superiority or disparage professional colleagues, Members or Friends of the Guild, other holistic professions or therapies.

Grounds for expulsion from the Guild, (in reference to your own website) include:

- Publishing of obscene, offensive, inappropriate or illegal material;
- Failure to adhere to relevant guidelines in the British Code of Advertising Practice. All advertising must be legal, decent, honest and truthful;

7.0 Expulsion from membership of the Guild

The Guild may expel any Friend of the Guild for failure to adhere to the membership terms and conditions or contravene the objectives of the Guild, or for any action which is considered to bring the Guild into disrepute.

The member (ie Friend of the Guild) will be given at least 21 days' notice of our intention with details of the grounds for the proposed expulsion; and you shall be entitled to be appeal against the proposal.

The Friend's conduct will be reviewed at a meeting of the Committee, where the member may, at the discretion of the Committee be invited to be heard. A decision will be taken by the Committee following the review, provided there is sufficient evidence to make a reasonable and fair judgement or delayed until such time that sufficient evidence is available for review.

The member shall be notified of any decision in writing, with the grounds for expulsion if the decision is taken to expel the member.

8.0 Meetings

The Guild holds its an annual general meeting (AGM) every year and may occasionally hold other general meetings which we encourage you to attend. We will notify you in advance of any meeting giving the date, time and location and the agenda items.

We hope to run these meetings efficiently as possible and include some social time to allow you to get to know other members.

9.0 Events

The Guild hopes to hold an annual event where members can get together for educational and social purposes. We would love to hear from you if you have any ideas for future events.

If you are holding your own event or running a workshop and wish to advertise with the Guild members please contact the Secretary with the details.

10.0 Principles and Conduct

The Guild sets out 4 principles. Members in Practice must agree to follow all the principles.

As a Friend of the Guild principles 1, 3 and 4 shall apply. Item 2 shall apply if you are currently studying for a qualification in a holistic therapy.

- 1. Integrity: A Member in Practice of the Guild shall be straightforward and honest in all professional, business and personal relationships with patients and other members of the Guild.
- 2. Professional Competence and Due Care: A Member in Practice has a continuing duty to maintain professional knowledge and skill at the level required to ensure that patients receive-competent professional care. The fundamental principle of professional competence and due care requires that a member shall only undertake treatments or administer therapies for which the member has had training and earned a qualification.
- 3. Confidentiality: A Member in Practice shall, in accordance with the law, respect the confidentiality of information acquired as a result of professional and business relationships with patients and other members of the Guild, and not disclose any such information to third parties without proper and specific authority unless there is a legal or professional right or duty to disclose. Confidential information acquired as a result of professional and business relationships shall not be used for the personal advantage of the member or third parties.
- 4. Professional Behaviour: A Member in Practice shall comply with relevant laws and regulations governing their therapy or treatments, and avoid any action that brings the profession or the Guild into disrepute.

The Guild has a zero tolerance approach to bullying, discrimination, or harassment in any form.

Members should note that where they are also a member of another professional or regulatory body there may be differences in some areas between the professional and ethical conduct requirements of the different bodies. Where there are differences, members should follow the more stringent provision and must do so where the more stringent provision is the Guild requirement.

FRIENDS OF THE GUILD - AGREEMENT TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

As a Friend of the Guild I understand and agree that:

- I must adhere to the Membership Terms and Conditions and the Constitution of the Guild;
- I am not eligible for Member in Practice status and will not imply or state that I am;
- I agree that the Guild does not confer on me any rights to practice any therapy;
- I do not have voting privileges at the AGM or other Guild meetings;
- I shall not use the Guild logo on my website, any other website connected to me, or any documentation or advertising.
- I do not have a right to be included in the directory of practitioners as published by the Guild.
- I do not have the right to be included on the Guild website, other than being listed as a patron which I may decline.

The Guild has a zero tolerance approach to bullying, discrimination, or harassment in any form.

Members should note that disciplinary action may be taken for non-compliance with the above terms and conditions, and where the member's conduct is considered to prejudice their status as a Friend of the Guild or to reflect adversely on the reputation of the Guild. See section 7 of the terms and conditions for details.

Members should note that where they are also a member of another professional or regulatory body there may be differences in some areas between the professional and ethical conduct requirements of the different bodies. Where there are differences, members should follow the more stringent provision and must do so where the more stringent provision is the Guild requirement.

I certify that I have read, understood and shall comply with the Friend of the Guild Terms and Conditions, support the aims and objectives of the Guild and uphold the Constitution of the Guild.
